Welcome to Lucha Libre, a gourmet taco shop in Mission Hills, San Diego. We're San Diego's newest and feistiest Mexican Restaurant, and the first to honor the traditions of La Lucha! Come and pit your massive hunger against our lunchtime luchadores like our queso taco, our best-in-town burrito, and especially the one and only TJ Dog (all beef dog, wrapped in bacon, and topped with grilled vegetable)-no matter how big and bad it is, your hunger's going down!

At Lucha Libre, gourmet doesn't mean wimpy. Our prices are low, our portions are big, and even our vegetarian specialties, like our potato rolled tacos, can make any appetite tap out. Our house-made salsas are campeones (champions) in their own right; and if we ever run out of our unique creamy cilantro salsa made by mother "B", our customers are ready to throw-down!

Lucha Libre is a gourmet taco shop with flamboyance and style equal to the spectacle of La Lucha, with flavors to match! Reserve the Champions Booth, and match your ravenous cravings in a battle royal of gourmet tacos served on gold plates while Lucha Libre movies play. Appear in a Lucha mask and get the challenger's discount! Take the fight outside with our catering and party-tray pickup service. Visit our 'Shop Now' service and choose from a major selection of Mexican and craft beers, and Lucha Libre merchandise.

We are located at 1810 W. Washington Street, just two blocks from the Washington Street trolley stop and minutes from downtown San Diego. Come and test your hunger one time, and you'll become a regular contender, spoiling for more!

Make us your friend on Facebook, Tweet your friends and brag about your exploits in the ring of lunchtime lucha. Email us for info and tell us what you think at: info@tacosmackdown.com.

Come in and throw down! Even when you lose, you win!
